Local Chapters of WfMC Host Audience of Hundreds for BPM & Workflow Standards Tour

November, 2006 - Key members of the international Business Process Management (BPM) standards community came together at a series of workshops held in Tokyo, Taipei and Singapore presented by the Workflow Management Coalition (WfMC). The Asia Tour was sponsored by WfMC members TIBCO and Fujitsu, and hosted by local members and chapter leaders NEC Soft and BPMF-Japan, Flowring, and Bizmann.

More than 500 participants listened to industry experts discuss a wide range of subjects relevant to BPM and Workflow systems. Topics included everything from general overviews of the BPM market, to specific detailed presentations regarding industry standards.

Presenters included: Robert Shapiro, Chair of WfMC Interface 1 (XPDL); Keith Swenson, WfMC Technical Committee Chairman; Dr Michael zur Muehlen, Stevens Institute of Technology; Justin Brunt, WfMC Vice Chairman; Ken Mei, Director of Technical Marketing, Global 360; Dr Pallab Saha, Project Specialist, ISS-National University of Singapore; and Ken Loke, WfMC Chairperson for Singapore and Malaysia; and Yoshihisa Sadakane, WfMC Vice Chairman, Panpacific Region.

About The WfMC

Founded in August 1993, the Workflow Management Coalition (WfMC) is a non-profit, global organization of adopters, developers, consultants, analysts and university/research groups engaged in Business Process Management (BPM). Workflow or BPM is the technology that supports people to do their work. Resulting benefit is more efficiency, traceability, and quality improvements.

Workflow Management Coalition

Process Thought Leadership™

WfMC creates and contributes to process related standards and educates on the benefits of process automation. WfMC is the only standards organization that concentrates purely on process. WfMC created XPD and Wf-XML and had influence on BPMN, OMG workflow interface, ASAP and many other process related standards.
